-The Methodist meeting lasted from 7 till after 11 the last night that Bro. Morrison was here and the scene at times was a lively one. Many of the sanctified got so happy they could not contain themselves, and giving vent to their feelings shouted in the good old Methodist way. One good sister from the hills created some amusement by joining in the singing. She had a voice almost as strong many and Mr. Wall Street have ruled as a man's and sang with a vim, but this country long enough. I am glad would invariably keep a line behind. Finally Bro. Morrison shouted, "You are doing first rate, my sister, but you must try and keep up with the procession.' Bro. Morrison has a keen sense of the ridiculous and often laughs out in meeting, either at something funny or in giving vent to his good feelings. He is one of the most companionable of fellows and everybody here likes Morrison and loves for him to come, the oftener the better.

Rev. W. S. Grinstead tells us that the meeting was a great one for the membership, as well as for bringing souls to Christ. Over 30 professed religion and sanctification and Sunday 17 united with the church. Yesterday Mr. Grinstead immersed three of the converts, Misses Ida, Ella and Gracie Holtzclaw.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS ENCAMP-MENT.

PARKS HILL, NICHOLAS Co., July 12 .-The wind-up here to-day of the week's encampment on the beautiful Deering Camp Meeting Grounds of the uniform rank of the Knights of Pythias drew a large crowd. Excursion trains at a low rate brought men, women and children from all directions, the ladies predominating as to numbers. Excellent speeches were made by members of the Order which were loudly applauded, the Carlisle K. P. Band discursed inspiring music, perfect order prevailed, Blue Lick water flowed freely, everybody had a good time generally and the day's program will redound to the good of the Order. The belles and beaux of the Blue-Grass had a regular old fashioned picnic. Paris sent a larger delegation of them than any other town. Capt. W. H. Kirby was there and apparently the most popular man on the ground with the ladies. He was hailed right and left by them and when asked about it, said they were relatives, that he had a great many in that section, but his explanation was not altogether satisfactory. His wife ought to know something about how he does when he gets out of her sight, but I wouldn't tell her under any consideration, for he is a dyed in the wool K. P.

Several got left at Stanford on account of the early departure of the train, but those who got here were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cummins and Miss Bettie DeBord, Messrs. Robert Bosley, Joe S. Rice, Charley Hayden, John Meier, Wm. Rice, Joe F. Waters and Albert Severance.

In answer to a telegram, Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Sharrard came with us as far as Paris to attend the burial of his aunt, Mrs. Carson, which took place in that city this afternoon.

The large dining room and kitchen on the Parks Hill grounds burned yesterday afternoon, together with their contents, and the managers said they could not entertain the crowd as well as they had intended, but they did remarkably well under the circumstances.

Prominent in the exhibition uniform drill to-day was Knight Jake Joseph, of Lancaster. He belongs to a number of secret orders and is always on hand when the roll is called. I noticed also several old gray-haired men in the procession, who in handsome uniforms understood their business and by their earnestness must have convinced the crowd that the Order is a good thing for this selfish world. THE INTERIOR JOURNAL boped that after the Chicago convention had forced a red hot free silver declaration upon us and had adopted other planks at variance with the ideas of many democrats, it would nominate a man, like Bland for instance, whose democracy is unquestioned and whose record is long and straight. The convention, nevertheless, thought Mr. Bryan better fitted to stand on the platform and made him the standard bearer. It is not our purpose now, however, either to criticise the platform or find fault with the nominee. Our readers know that we did all in our humble power to stem the free eilver tide and fought for the gold standard till the last day in the evening. But that is not here nor there. We do not arrogate to ourselves more wisdom than is possessed by the majority of the constituted authorities of the party, and believing in the right of that majority to dictate the platform, we have climbed upon the one adopted at Chicago, and while surrendering no conviction previously expressed, nor at the same time professing any infallibility, we shall endeavor to stand upon it with both feet and give the nominees our hearty support. So hurrah for Bryan and Sewall and may the devil take McKinley and his running mate.

THE Courier-Journal renounces the ticket and the platform and calls for a convention of real democrats to nominate a ticket, which it says will not be elected, but will save the party from disgrace. The Post raves against the whole business and says: "Secession, revolutionary tactics, anarchy, Tillmanism and Teller 8; not voting 185. On the 2d balfree silver can never be the watchwords pers of the East and some in the South an went to 219. On the 4th Bland drop- gates, his star shot away up in the firmof democracy." Many of the leading paand West also repudiate the work of the convention. The outlook is a little squally, but we believe that Bryan and Sewall thews 33, McLean 46, Blackburn 27, Pat- the vast crowd. THE most disgraceful act of a convencondemning his administration were tion then adjourned till 8 P. M. even of a lower grade than his previous even the republican party.

Woodson, of the Owensboro Messenger, is as good at landing on his feet as a cat. A month ago he wanted it distinctly understood that he was the first, great original and only Stevenson man. Stevenson wasn't mentioned in the convention and now Mr. Woodson searches his files and finds this of date June 16, 1895, which he prints in bold black type "Keep an eye on that young man Bryan. Some day he may be president." We always said that man Woodson was a great

It is said that Editor Sam J. Roberts, of the Lexington Leader, will be satisfied with the collectorship of that district. Such modesty is commendable, but Roberts deserves something a great deal better than that if McKinley is elected. He has been the Ohioan's faithful champion in season and out of season and if he doesn't give him the best in his shop he will be liable to the charge of base ingratitude.

It turned out just as we expected. Nobody ever took Joe Blackburn's candidacy for the presidency seriously, though he did manage to get 83 votes on the first other enterprises. He is a splendid specballot. On the next he only got 41, next 27 and then the Kentucky crowd seeing the way the cat was going to jump gave him the g. b. and voted for Bryan, and Joe will have "to remain longer in the ranks" as Rhea suggested.

FRANK HURD, of Ohio, the original free trader, died Friday, and a good deal of pure democracy went with him. The 50 cent statesmen were doing their best at Chicago at the time to kill the whole par ty, but it was not born to die, and we trust it will come out of the flery furnace, through which it has passed; unscathed.

ANOTHER thing can be said in favor of the young man Bryan. He comes of good old Virginia stock, his father being a native of Culpepper county, Va., which adjoins Orange county, the home of Madison and is very near Albemarle, the home of Jefferson.

SENATOR HILL is living up to his assertion that he is democrat. He says he does not endorse the platform but will support the ticket. That is the only way for democrats to do if they would maintain party organization.

EDITOR J. L. Bosley, finding doubtless that the old adage, "It is just as well to kill a dog as to give him a bad name," is alas too true, has changed the name of his paper from the Republican to the Paris Reporter.

THE free silver men claim that they of the Mississippi, giving them 236 votes | would not be a candidate for re-election, present it looks so.

Is the Ticket Named at Chicago.

Nebraska and Maine United and Free Silver The Cry.

AFTER the adoption of the platform by the Chicago convention, of which we told in our last issue, the nomination of candidates for the presidency began. Senator Vest named Bland, John S. Rhea performed a like service for Blackburn, White, of Iows, nominated Boies, Senstor Turpie presented the name of Gov. Matthews, while H. T. Lewis, of Georgia, sang the praises of W. J. Bryan, of Nebraska, in the shortest of speeches. John R. McLean was also named. Their oratorical efforts together with the seconding speeches consumed all of Thursday night's session and closed the night's show. Rhea's speech nominating Blackburn was hardly up to his best, but considering his subject it was perhaps as good as he or any other man could make.

Next morning nominations being still in order, Mr. : Harrity placed Gov. R. E. Pattison, of Pennsylvania, in nomination. Delegate Miller, of Oregon, added to the list of nominations the name of Sylvester Pennoyer, of Oregon. The names of Bland, Bryan, Boies, Blackburn, Matthews, McLean, Pattison and Pennoyer were before the convention, and the first ballot was at 11:08 Friday ordered and the call of States began, resulting as follows: Bland 233; Boies 86; Matthews out of the pale of consideration. .
